Carol welcomed the overflow crowd to the guild meeting. It was noted how many people came from out of state (1), out of county (many) and out of the city of S.B. and Goleta. All were instructed to pick up literature at the door on future programs and challenges.

Judy Gorrindo solicited more sewers for her angel doorprize quilt she is coordinating for the guild.

Rebecca Mealy requested notices for the newsletter get to her in sufficient time for her preparation in advance of the meeting at which they are distributed. She also asked for those signed up to work on Goleta Valley Days to see her and meet after the general meeting.

Sheila Wiley, a member of the nominations committee, passed out a list of jobs needing to be filled for 1991. All are asked to turn them in at the end of the meeting.

Colby Kline showed the progress on the displayed quilt which is being given to the Museum of Natural History on the occasion of their 75th anniversary. It is to be finished in early 1991 and given then to the Museum auxilliary. Volunteers to quilt were solicited. The next meeting of the steering committee for this project will meet Sept. 19th. All interested are invited to attend.

Maggie Godwin briefly discussed block of the month and dispensed with a block this month. The drawing for the summer time applique blocks was held. Margaret Kocinski won 18 blocks.

Jan Inouye announced next month's program of Vicki Johnson who will give a workshop on fabric painting. Those participating in the nature challenge are to bring a piece in a brown bag to the Sept. meeting.

Denise Clark solicited last minute opportunity for the Hidden Wells quilt. The quilt earned $1,000 for the Guild. The quilt was won by Carol Boyce.

Show & Tell began with those quilts inspired by Mary Ellen's book or workshops. The group challenge quilts from her book "It's O.K. to sit on my Quilt" were on display around the room.

Harriet Berk introduced Mary Ellen Hopkins at 8:00 p.m. who spoke to the group, displayed quilt samples from her books, and introduced her new book and fabrics.

The meeting ended at 10:00 p.m.
