Committee and Other Announcements

- Marian Jones will be giving the heart quilts to her granddaughters for Christmas. She made the quilts with a strip set.
- Debbi introduced Shawn McMaster from the Magic Castle in Hollywood who will be doing a show for us at the end of the meeting.
- Joan Watts announced that there are still tickets remaining for the Road to California bus. Sign-ups are open during the meeting.
- Axxess books/tickets are still available for both Santa Barbara ($40; also covers Santa Ynez/Solvang, Los Olivos, Buellton) and Ventura ($30; also covers Oxnard, Camarillo, Simi Valley and Thousand Oaks. Of the purchase price, $13 goes directly to the guild.
- The Christmas Boutique with quilts and quilted pieces, jewelry, knitted and crocheted item, Christmas ornaments and other gift items will continue to be open during the dinner.

Challenge Quilt

- Carol Hart reminded us to start working on our Challenge Quilts--a 12" x 12" sign to inform the public not to touch our quilts displayed at future shows. A member can enter more than one quilt, but only the top scoring quilt for a single person will be included for the selection of prizes.

Workshops

- The January workshop will be given by Nancy Ota on Sashiko quilting, a form of Japanese hand quilting.
- The March workshop will be “Wonky Flowers”.

Program

Shawn McMaster is a master magician/comedian from the Magic Castle in Hollywood. He has performed in shows around the world and appeared on the Masters of Illusion television program. He gave an amusing and mystical performance that was much enjoyed by all!

He also donated 4 tickets for an evening at the Magic Castle, including the regular program plus his own special prime show. The tickets include the cover charge with Shawn as host. Dinner is not included, but is an optional addition. The winner will work out the date directly with Shawn.

The tickets were auctioned off by Debbi and brought in $600 for the guild. Thanks to Edalee Keehn who won the auction!

The meeting adjourned at 8:10 PM.

Respectfully submitted:
Sherry Lafler, Recording Secretary
