Trudy Smith will share her quilting love story and trunk show at the March meeting. Trudy currently teaches Quilting and Machine Embroidery for Conejo Valley Adult Education. She has been quilting for over 25 years and calls herself a "dabbler" in all techniques of quilting. Machine appliqué is her favorite method and she has expertise with Bernina Sewing and embroidery machines. Her quilts have been shown at Paducah, Kentucky quilt show and at Road to California.

On March 15th, Trudy will teach a workshop titled "Machine Appliqué-Mock Hand Appliqué." A kit for $25.00 will be available for the workshop. You can register at the February meeting or by contacting Margaret Dear at margaretdear@gmail.com.

President's Message [Editor's Note]

As announced by eblast last week, Guild President Debbi Haeberle has taken a four-month leave of absence. We all wish Debbi a very speedy recovery and look forward to seeing her at Guild meetings soon.

Under our by-laws, Vice President Cathe Hedrick will serve as Acting President during Debbi's leave. However, because Cathe lives out of town and cannot regularly attend meetings, our past President Linda Boynton de Sepulveda has graciously agreed to serve as Interim Chair.

Please contact Interim Chair Linda Boynton de Sepulveda about any and all matters as to which you would ordinarily contact the Guild President, until further notice.

The Board appointed Linda by unanimous vote on January 23, 2019 under Section 36 of our by-laws. These are available for your review in the back of the Guild Directory and on the website under "Our Guild." Linda will serve until Debbi officially resumes her duties, or a President takes office after the May 2019 election, whichever occurs first.

As a Guild, we owe a debt of gratitude to Linda for stepping up to lead us once again, to the Board for assuring a smooth leadership transition, and to Sue Kadner and Darilyn Kisch for mobilizing the Guild's energies to arrange this transition and organize a new plan for the February meeting.

Because the idea of honoring past presidents is Debbi's idea and she is so excited about it, that event has been postponed until, most likely, the July meeting. Please see page 1 for details about the February meeting.

30 Years of Photographs

This past summer, Andrea Hoelter scanned in 30 years of Guild photographs that have been posted on our website by Bonnie Barber. We will have the actual books at the February meeting and members will have the opportunity to view the original pictures and take any that they might want. Due to lack of storage space – and the fact that all the pictures, newsletters and minutes are now available on the web – we will be getting rid of the actual albums after the meeting. Thank you Andrea and Bonnie for all your work.

Sue Kadner

Challenge 2019: "Don't Touch"

This is your last month to complete your Challenge entry. Entries will be collected at the March meeting. Our 2019 challenge promotes one of the Guild's stated aims: "to inform the community about the history and preservation of quilts." Members are asked to make a Public Awareness sign with a reminder: "Just Look, Don't Touch." All entrants are encouraged to donate their entries to the Guild for use in future quilt shows.

This year's challenge may be one of the easiest-to-enter ever! Why? Entries must be 12" x 12" finished size, no hanging sleeve, and have a back label with maker's name (further details optional). No political statements, please.

You may select an era, technique, or trend, from traditional to wonky. You may venture into an exciting, modern style or use an actual vintage block. There is no limit to your sign's artistic possibilities, whether it be a raw edge fiber art collage or a whimsical children's block. Humor is always enjoyed. Your entry may convey its message with or without words. (Only two sets of laser cut, press-on word sets are left, available in the Guild library along with Challenge rules.)

Library News

Our Library collection's database, available on the Guild website, was updated for your use in mid-January. To browse our 600-book collection, go to the Guild website, click on Our Guild, then Library, then library—or just go here: coastalquilters.org/library.html. There are 3 database listings (Author, Title or Subject.) I'm thankful for the many donations received at January's meeting, some of which will be in the subject bins by February but not yet listed on the website. For new books not yet in the database, check the New Arrivals List in the middle of the library table or ask the librarians about books you are interested in. Thank you for returning your borrowed books.

Block of the Month News

In January, Alicia Bonnette won 13 Chinese Lantern blocks stitched in luminous multicolor scraps with black accents that can form some delightful secondary patterns.

Guild History: January 2013 Block of the Month “The Chinese Lantern is the first-ever portable lighting. It is the unique traditional craftwork of China. Besides an illumination tool, the lantern also became a source of artistic expression. Calligraphic characters, historical figures, deities and landscapes would adorn their lanterns. At times, artistic contests would be held to crown the best lantern craftsmen. Though electricity has replaced the lantern, lantern festivals bring back the beauty of this illumination tool. Now with this little bit of history, let's begin to make fantastic Chinese lanterns!” Thanks to Knotty Threads Kika Hutchings and Diana Hamilton, our very talented BoM chairs from December 2012.

Letters to Our Guild

This letter was received in early January from Niccy Brandrick, recipient of a CQG quilt:

In 2011, I lost my home in the devastating earthquakes in Christchurch, New Zealand. After many years, I am now happily settled in my new beautiful home. Unpacking my belongings and putting them in my new home was sad but healing. One of the items I unpacked was a beautiful quilt, which I was given a number of years ago. It was only by chance that I saw the label on the quilt. I wanted to thank your guild from the bottom of my heart for this beautiful gift, which I will always treasure. The thought that complete strangers from the other side of the world were thinking about us is truly humbling. Thank you all so very much.

This letter was received from Nancy Ota, our January speaker:

A big THANK YOU to the Coastal Quilters of Santa Barbara and Goleta. Carole very efficiently took such good care of us. Bud and I received such a warm welcome and lovely accommodations. Dinner at Lure's was delicious. It was also fun to eat at the original "Habit." We enjoyed our time with you all. The workshop setting was comfy and yummy, thanks to Margaret. I appreciate your support of my work and patterns.

I neglected to tell you that I do send out emails sharing the pictures of projects that students complete. I also send out travel photo journals of our trips. I do need the email address of those of you interested in one or the other or both. You would need to let me know which.

Reservations for the talk are strongly suggested and there is a charge of $5/member $10/nonmember. Check out wildlingmuseum.org to make online reservations or call the museum.

Isabel is pleased to share that she has the unexpected and extraordinary privilege to be exhibiting at the Wildling during an exhibit by great Santa Barbara plein air artist, Ray Strong (Ray Strong: A Collector's Passion February 2-July 8, 2019). So, make it more than a wildflower expedition to Figueroa Mountain and lunch in Solvang but also an opportunity to see 35 rarely-seen works from a private collection.
