

9/13/95 Coastal Quilters Guild Inc. Monthly Meeting

- I. Susan Cochran introduced three new members and three visitors tonight.
- II. Linda Karppinen explained the California Heritage Project which will be documenting and recording California quilts, and become part of a state historical research project. California is the first state to recognize quilting in this manner. Part of the project will be interviewing quilters, and our Guild has been asked to participate on Nov 1 and 2 in the interviews. Questionnaire forms were distributed to members present, and several individuals among these will be asked to participate in the interviews.
- III. Judy Gorrindo asked all Guild members present to turn in their suggestion tonight on a blank piece of paper of who would be a good Guild President for next year.
- IV. Ruth Walters has entry forms for next month's Challenge program. She asked that members have their quilts at the meeting by 7 p.m.
- V. Harriet Berk said there has been $200 donated so far on the Opportunity Quilt. The quilt is being quilted, but is not bound yet.
- VI. Linda Estrada invited new members to a Welcoming Tea to be held at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, October 11, 1995, prior to the monthly meeting. She asked new members to give their name to Lee Carlson. Continuing members able to attend are asked to bring one dozen goodies to share.
- VII. Charlotte Warr Andersen from Salt Lake City, Utah, was introduced and gave a presentation titled "A Cotton Palette."
- VIII. Claire Hemke was absent tonight. The community project this year is being donated to Hospice.
- IX. Diana Iler thanked individuals for bringing refreshments tonight. (Names are listed in Newsletter now.)
- X. Anne Braddock asked individuals taking Charlotte's workshop tomorrow to be ready to start at 9 a.m. She reviewed the rest of the programs left for the year, including the Challenge in October, the Hoffinan Exhibit in November, and the Guild Xmas Party in December.
- XI. Door prizes were given out by Tracy Hilden-Cope.
- XII. The Block-of-the-Month drawing went to June Brandon. Verna Smith and Beth Jones asked that next month's "No Block" be 12 1/2" in unfinished size.
- XIII. Show and Tell concluded the meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
