BITS & PIECES.....

The days of summer pass by and I am reminded of summers past of other places and as a child as I looked forward to school beginning and new clothes. Usually some of them were made by my mother and later as I learned, I began a love of fabric and design as I created my own clothes. As I passed through the aisles of wonderful wools, cordoroyes, challis, flannels and cottons I could envision them all - more styles than I would ever have time to make. Needless to say, I still love to visit fabric stores and see all the projects which would take Santa's army of elves to complete..... Rebecca

FROM LAST MONTH

Katie Pasquini joined us last month for her slide talk, "Quilts & Quilt Trips or Quilts, Quilts, Everywhere Quilts" of her travels and the progression of her work & their inspiration. Her Saturday workshop Isometrics was well attended and a challenge for all those who attended.

Carol announced that cameras are not allowed into General Research. Since many wish to photograph quilts of the speakers as well as show & tell, Carol will look into this. Speaking with her, she has cleared this with GR.

Last month Zetta Hanna passed out nomination sheets but few came back. If you still have one or would like to volunteer (HINT! HINT!) for any position open contact Zetta (967-3296).

AUGUST MEETING

Tonight we will have a chance to view the clothing collection from the Hoffman Challenge. How will the zebra appear?

Also tonight - ever think that it would be so nice to have someone else's feedback when trying to make a decision concerning quilting? Tonight is the first of those opportunities. Bring a problem project and let others give you some ideas. We have a wealth of knowledge & expertise in our guild.

SEPTEMBER MEETING

Cheryl Bradkin will give a slide show on Seminole Patchwork - Construction, Uses & History. Her book is the definitive source. On the following day (Thursday), she will offer her workshop on basic Seminole. Signups are still open at tonight's meeting or by contacting Jan Inouye (962-3498).

OCTOBER MEETING

Danita Ravelovitch will speak on Southern California quilts traditional to contemporary. There is the possibility of her rubber stamp workshop. (What is the feeling for another Saturday workshop if possible?)

UPCOMING MEETINGS

We have so many great meetings coming up this fall plus November with Michelle Shoemith on organizing the sewing room and a Christmas meeting (Dec 11) with Mary Ellen Hopkins !!!!! Remember guests passes are always available at the hospitality table. Share the fun with a friend!

OPPORTUNITY QUILT

Ticket sales for the lovely blue & white quilt are progressing. Plenty of tickets are still available from Denise Clark. Drawing will be at the October meeting.

BLESS THE CHILDREN

There is still time to make a quilt for our community project of children's quilts for Christmas Cheer due in October. Marge Hall has the labels to sew in at each meeting.

UGLY IS.....

Maggie Godwin will discuss her perceptions of ugly fabric and the rules of this new challenge (strange thoughts go through your head when stuck in the infamous 101 shutdown, huh Maggie??) The fabric pack is available at the meetings as well as by asking at Betty's. The cost is $8 for 3 - 1/2 yard pieces.

WANT TO GO ...ON THE ROAD TO CALIFORNIA?????

There are still some openings in the workshops. Check the bulletin board for availability and this year....GO!

DOPS.....CORRECTION

Pat Stanovitch's Amish Quilt Show will be Aug 31st at the Sexton House, Hollister Ave, Goleta.

BLOCK OF THE MONTH

Back to school means back to hitting the books. How about this month's block: Bookcase.

$AVE $AVE $AVE

Included this month are the businesses which offer discounts to members of Coastal Quilters. Hints: carry your membership card and be sure and advise the sales clerk of your discount before ringing up the sale.

DEAR AUNT GERTRUDE

I'm just a beginner and I need some inspiration. Also I don't receive a subscription to Quilters Newsletter. Where can I buy quilt magazines??
(signed) Novice Nellie Needle

Dear Nellie,

Well, besides the obvious advantages of checking out magazines from the guild library and lightening Michelle's load or buying oldies but goodies from Harriet's sales, there are a number of places. Check out Front Page in Montecito, Chaucer Books, Printed Word in Goleta, Beverly's Fabrics in Goleta & Santa Barbara and Betty's in SB. If in Santa Maria try Sally's Quilt Corner on S Broadway.

CLASSES -CLASSES

Fall will soon be here and classes are coming - check the Sunday editions of the Newspress for adult ed classes of Marti Frolli & Bev Sonderland. Also Sally's in Santa Maria has all kinds of classes on weekdays & weekends including an upcoming weekend with Elinor Peace Bailey Aug 23rd & 24th. Call Sally (925-1888)

CLASSIFIEDS -

Gail Tinsley is looking for a copy of the June PBS broadcast of The Magic Flute. If you have a copy & are will to lend, please call her at 685-7222.
