

COASTAL QUILTERS GUILD
General Meeting
November 8, 2001

The meeting of the Coastal Quilters Guild was held July 12, 2001 at St Andrews Presbyterian Church. Diane Eardley opened the meeting at 7:00.

A flag was presented to fireman Roark and Duke his dog. Duke was at the Trade Center looking for people caught in the rubble. The fireman spoke about their experiences.

Announcements:

1. The guild is doing a remembrance quilt with the marigold blocks. Diane asked the members to please take a pattern and send a block to her by Nov 15. She will put them together.
2. A pattern is available for the Christmas stocking for the local nonprofit that provides for disabled people. Members were asked to chose a name from the list and make a stocking for that person.
3. The booth at the holiday faire opens at 4:00 on Friday. Saturday & Sunday from 10-9.
4. We are sponsoring a window display at the community center.
5. Opportunity quilt drawing is next month.
6. The challenge quilts are on display at the Maritime Museum. Free tickets to the people who entered the challenge.
7. Quilt show meeting in January.
8. A wooden quilt frame is available. If you would like it talk to Diane.
9. Future Programs: Need volunteer.
10. December program is a surprise. It's a "winter time" quilt person from a cold place.
11. January speaker is Ranolla Paquiset. She will be doing two workshops.
12. January 19 is a lunch meeting of the old board and the new board. Dec 6 is a meeting of just the old board.
