All quilts had to contain a minimum of five scavenger items.

The quilts containing ALL 21 items are marked:

A large, stylized number 21 in a yellow box.

The quilts are displayed in the order they were submitted.

THANK YOU!

An ENORMOUS thank you to everyone who conceived, designed and created a quilt for this year's challenge.

I've never seen this type of challenge before, and it definitely was challenging! We were especially impressed at how many people managed to incorporate all 21 scavenger hunt items! Had I better considered my own fabric stash in advance, I might have made some strategic changes!

Thank you to Grant House and Roxanne's for our prizes and to the Coastal Quilters' Guild for always supporting this annual endeavor.

And finally huge thanks to Pat Masterson, Sue Kadner and Bonnie Barber for encouragement and assistance throughout!

Quilters:

Please be ready to unmute and say a few words
as we get to your quilt entry.

Limit yourself to about one minute...

Which scavenger hunt item was most difficult to include?

or

What did you find most challenging about this Challenge?

Everyone:

Please tell us, just for fun, in the chat box,

How did you select your choice of winner?

for example...

skills and level of workmanship involved

coherent design

overall impression

amount of intricacy and detail

adherence to Challenge rules

something else...

Here are all the entries..
